Terms of Participation

Participants are responsible for collecting and paying their own sales taxes, if any.

Participants are expected to maintain their own liability insurance and evidence of such insurance must be provided to the Festival management upon request. The Festival or it's sponsors will not be held responsible for any claims arising from the use of product or services provided by any vendor.

There are no refunds if a vendor withdraws from participation.

It is the sole responsibility of each Participant to secure the exhibit area assigned to them and the belongings contained therein. The Festival Management assumes no liability for any personal loss or injury to the Participant's staff, and/or booth guests, for loss, damage or theft of any individual's belongings. Nor shall the Farm to Fiddle Summer Festival, Inc., be required to maintain security or provide insurance for any damage or loss to any individual or any individual's property.

Farm to Fiddle Summer Festival, Inc. reserves the right to cancel or close the Festival if, in the reasonable opinion of the management of the Farm to Fiddle Summer Festival, Inc, the Festival premises are destroyed or damaged so as to render them untenable or unfit, or should any circumstance beyond the control of Festival management make impossible the fulfillment of its part of this contract. Provided, however, that in the event of such cancellation or closing, all payments previously made and to be made hereunder to Farm to Fiddle Summer Festival, Inc, on this contract shall be considered fully earned and the Farm to Fiddle Summer Festival, Inc, Inc., shall be released of any and all claims for losses, damages, costs or expenses of the Vendor by reason of such cancellation or closing. It is further understood and agreed that should a postponement of the Festival be advisable, later Festival dates may be selected and set within a reasonable time, all at the discretion of the management of the Farm to Fiddle Summer Festival, Inc. It is further understood that should a change of announced Festival dates be considered advisable in the opinion of Festival management, this change may be effected by said Festival management without altering any of the terms or conditions of this contract.

Each Participant agrees to protect, defend, indemnify and hold harmless the Farm to Fiddle Summer Festival, Inc. and its officers, directors, agents, or any person, organization or company associated with the Festival against loss, damages, or expense by reason of suits, claims, demands, judgments and causes of action caused by Participants or the Participant's agents, arising out of or in consequence of the performance of this contract. Festival Management can give indications of attendance at previous events but cannot and does not guarantee attendance or profit levels at the Festival site. Any loss sustained is to be borne by the Participant.

Participant herein acknowledges receipt and reading of all the Terms and Conditions of this contract. The Participant further agrees that he/she/it is responsible for obtaining a copy of the General Festival Rules and Instructions and any special additional instructions written for each section of the festival, and to read and understand same and is bound by such rules and instructions, incorporated herein by reference.

I HAVE READ AND AGREE TO ALL CONDITIONS OF THIS CONTRACT.
